ABOUT ME

Full Stack Web Developer specialized in React, Next.js, TypeScript, Python, Django, and GraphQL, with experience building and maintaining complex web platforms at Mentelem and ForIT. I focus on developing scalable, maintainable, and user-centered solutions, applying Clean Architecture, TDD, and solid software design practices. My background in psychology strengthens my analytical thinking, communication, and ability to understand user behavior, helping me bridge technical decisions with real product needs. I am especially interested in high-quality software, automated testing, UX/UI, and building reliable digital products for businesses and end users.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Full Stack Web Developer | Mentelem (Apr 2026 – Present)

- Develop and maintain full-stack features for a complex web platform using Next.js, React, TypeScript, Python, Django, and GraphQL.
- Build user-centered interfaces with attention to UX/UI quality, accessibility, and maintainable component structure.
- Work with sensitive user and clinical-related data, following secure and responsible application design practices.
- Contribute to analytics, user activity tracking, and KPI-related features by connecting business logic with backend data sources.
- Apply Clean Architecture, TDD, and source-of-truth analysis to reduce duplicated logic, improve reliability, and keep frontend/backend responsibilities clear.

Full Stack Web Developer | ForIT (2025 - Apr 2026)
Developing customized software solutions with a focus on clean architectures and scalability.

- AMIA Project (Talent Management Ecosystem): Development of a highly complex Multi-tenancy platform for job intermediation and training. Implemented critical flows from application to commercial closing, and modules for financial automation and reporting.
- La Liga Project (Football Tournament Management): Construction of a comprehensive platform (Web & Mobile) for tournament administration. Developed features for real-time fixture management, user roles (delegates/admins), player registration, and automated document and bulletin generation.
